CHINESE AUCTION

A DEFINITION

Chinese Auction is an exciting way to win one or more items. Every item is its own raffle. You buy tickets in different denominations and place one or multiple tickets for each item you desire. One winning ticket is drawn from each box. Unlike a Silent or Live Auction, where only the highest bidder wins, you may walk away a winner of one or several of the prizes for a fraction of the cost of the item. The tickets denominations are $30, $20 and $10. Each denomination is a different color to easily recognize its face value.

TICKET DENOMINATIONS

$30, $20, $10

SPECIAL PROMOTIONS

For $50	you get $60	worth of tickets
For $100	you get $120	worth of tickets
For $200	you get $250	worth of tickets
For $300	you get $400	worth of tickets
For $400	you get $550	worth of tickets
For $550	you get $720	worth of tickets
		or 1 ticket for every prize
For $1,000	you get $1,400	worth of tickets
		or 2 ticket for every prize
